July 2016 News & Updates

A Shining Star: Zyriah Robinson

Before they were even five years old, Zyriah and her twin sister had lost their father. Only a few years after, their older brother passed away, then their aunt. Their mother, left to raise the girls alone, always instilled in them that education was their key and gateway to all opportunities in life. When she passed away suddenly, that lesson lived on.

Moving Up & Moving On

They're going to kindergarten!

This month Moms and Dads reaped the fruits of their labor as they watched their children graduate from pre-K on the path to kindergarten.

Kick Off to Once Upon a Summer

The Once Upon a Summer program is back for its third year. A component of the ReadNYC initiative through our partnership with the United Way of NYC, this unique literacy-focused summer camp serves our community's kindergarten through 2nd graders. We get results: last year, almost 90% of program participants increased their reading level.

National Summer Learning Day

Did you know that each summer, low income kids lose 2-3 months in reading and about two months of math skills?

On July 14th, ESH teamed up with the United Way of NYC and New York Public Library to kick off National Summer Learning Day to get children and families excited about all the learning opportunities the summer holds!
